Annual Open Exhibition

December 6, 2019 – January 31, 2020

Curator: Jessica Baron Warner

The Community School of Music and Arts (CSMA) invites students, emerging, and established artists to submit their strongest work to our annual Open Exhibition.

We are interested in showing artwork by a broad spectrum of intergenerational artists across skill levels and disciplines. All applicants are guaranteed a spot in this exhibition.

Please join us in a celebration of art and culture in our community. Show your work, and support your favorite local arts organization!

Media

- Open to all visual artists. Work in all media and subjects encouraged.
- No size restrictions, but unusually large work may be selected only as gallery space allows.
- Works must be ready for hanging/installation, with appropriate hanging devices attached. CSMA may exclude works that are delivered in poor condition or not ready for hanging.
- Electronic equipment (e.g., monitors, projectors, audio players), if needed, must be provided by the artist.
- Works will be displayed in a community gallery space which serves as a welcoming entrance lobby for CSMA and must be appropriate for a diverse, inclusive, all-age audience.

Terms and Conditions

- Each artist may submit up to three (3) works. All applicants are guaranteed inclusion of at least one work in the exhibition; you will be notified of work(s) selected.
- CSMA will retain a 20% commission on sales. We strongly encourage all works to be available for purchase with prices indicated.
- Artists are responsible for insurance of their own artwork.
- Selection and placement of works is solely at the discretion of the curator.
- No accepted work may be withdrawn by the artist before the close of the exhibition.
